Associate

E-mail: manderson@pmtlawfirm.com

Offices: Elmsford, NY

Michael Anderson is an Attorney in the firm's Elmsford, New York office where he focuses his practice on automobile, construction law, premises liability and general liability. He has extensive experience in litigation, arbitration, mediation, and negotiations. Mike applies a preventative approach when guiding his clients, with a focus on avoiding litigation where possible.

Out of law school, Mike jump started his career immediately representing clients in alternate dispute resolution and eventually joined a litigation firm in New York City where he continued representing plaintiffs. Prior to joining PMT, Mike represented corporations at a defense litigation firm where he was able to gain invaluable experience representing defendants. This experience has given him a unique perspective when approaching client matters, as he has handled cases from both the plaintiff and defendant side.

While in Law School at Pace University, Mike excelled in trial advocacy, mediation, arbitration, and negotiations. He was also an Articles Editor for the Pace International Law Review. During his final year of law school, Mike was a Pro Bono Scholar, where he worked on various matters for clients who could not afford representation.

Outside of the practice of law, Mike played baseball at a collegiate level and was the captain of his High School baseball team. Mike continues to play competitive baseball and he participates in several softball and golf fundraisers every year. Mike manages a baseball team in the fall, coaches youth sports, and is actively involved in his local community. Mike strives to bring the same leadership, ambition, and dedication to serving his clients throughout the legal process.
